Fehrer's Personal Attacks on British P.'s Resented

By WEBB MILLER

British United Press: Exclusive Cable To The Bulletin

LONDON, Nov. 14—German negotiations, which Prime Minister Chamberlain hoped would bring Europe lasting peace, has been postponed indefinitely, it is reported here reliably today. The reported postponement was caused by the severe Nazi campaign against Jews and Chancellor Hitler's personal attack on British public leaders, including prominent members of parliament.

OIL MEN SEEK NULLIFY GAS LEGISLATION

Independent Gasoline Producers In Edmonton On Monday

Representatives of independent natural gasoline producers of Turner Valley were in Edmonton Monday formulating plans for nullifying the new gas conservation legislation which the provincial government will introduce at its special session opening on Tuesday.

Walter Jones of Gas and Oil
Products, Ltd., and L. E. Pichler, independent manager of the Turn Company, stated that their understanding of the recommendations made by the gas conservation board to the government for inclusion in the new legislation are that—
1. Operating crude oil companies be allowed to "burn" 30,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily in operation of crude wells.
2. Gas cap or gaslights will be allowed to produce 40,000,000 cubic feet daily.
3. No compensation be allowed to producers of natural gasoline for their losses which would accrue to them under the operation of such a plan.

Mr. Jones is sponsoring a plan which he will advocate to the government as an alternative to the board's recommendations and which he said would result in a saving of $1,000,000 to the government.

Personal Attacks Can't Be Overlooked

Personal attacks against such men as Winston Churchill, Anthony Eden, Alfred Duff Cooper, and others, could not be overlooked to permit of new negotiations, it was said.

Prime Minister Chamberlain was reliably reported, however, to be still determined to negotiate with Hitler, although realizing immediate discussions are impossible because of British indignation with Germany as well as Hitler's apparent irritation with Britain which is manifest in his recent speeches.

Government Will Not Intervene Openly

Despite unofficial protests on all sides, it is understood the government would not intervene openly in the German anti-Jewish campaign, but was expected to maintain a firm stand regarding the interests of British Jews in Germany.

The government also is expected to protest an article in the German newspaper "Der Angriff" that alleged Churchill, Eden and Duff Cooper helped to instigate the assassination of Ernst von Rath, secretary of the German embassy in Paris, by a Polish Jew. It is reported this protest may be made "privately" to spare "German pride".

Prime Minister Chamberlain, however, starts his peace program in another direction this week by making effective the new Anglo-Italian agreement which was agreed upon last April but was never implemented.

Nazi Anti-Semitic Violence Now Shows European Peace Threat

LONDON, Nov. 14—The British government has made two protests to Germany over Nazi press attacks on British political leaders following the assassination of a German official in Paris, Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today.

(Der Angriff, organ of Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels, said on Friday "it is no coincidence" that the 17-year-old Polish-German Jew who killed Ernst von Rath in Paris "took the same line" as Winston Churchill, Anthony Eden and Alfred Duff Cooper, who have criticized the British government's attitude towards Germany.)

LONDON, Nov. 14—Britons of government ranks and the opposition joining churches and newspapers during the week-end in declaring anti-Semitic violence in Germany threatened European peace.

Amid widespread condemnation of the Nazi campaign came evidence from a cabinet minister he had shared at home, and Foreign Minister Glatzke said he had been informed by Prime Minister Chamberlain's colleagues in his efforts to obtain friendship with Chamberlain.

Addressing a local meeting of the National Youth Council on Saturday, Dr. De La Rue, president of the council, said:

"The secret was concluded April 16 with an exchange of letters between the Reich of Berlin, British ambassador at Rome, and Foreign Minister Glatzke. It was agreed it would not become effective until a settlement had been reached in respect to Spain."

Following the outbreak of 10,000 Italian legionnaires from the ranks of General Franco's insurgent army, the prime minister informed the House he felt the threat of war over the Spanish situation was ended and he intended to make the accord effective. His stand was approved by the House when it was put to a vote Nov. 2.

Turkish and Spanish were removed from the famous Hitler girls last Wednesday. They still are confined to bed and will not be allowed up for several days. Dr. Duff Cooper was more than these girls, May 28, 1934, said their progress continues satisfactory.

Anglo-Italian Pact Effective Soon

LONDON, Nov. 14—The long-delayed Anglo-Italian secret treaty, which was signed in Rome, will become effective soon, it was learned today. Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today.

Technique In Berlin

"Germans defend themselves. Don't trade in Jewish shops." is the legend these Nazi storm troopers are pasting on the windows of a Jewish-owned store in Berlin. The technique was comparatively mild beside that now being used, not only in Berlin, but in Munich, Vienna, Hamburg and other key cities, where mobs, unheeded by police are wrecking Jewish stores and defiling synagogues. Cause of the outbreak was the death of Ernst von Rath, secretary to the German embassy in Paris, as the result of bullets fired into his body by a young Polish Jew whose parents had been murdered by Nazis.

B.C. May Get 10,000 New Families

Britain Urged to Spend 50 Million Populating Canada

Croft and Dalgleish Make Report To Government On Settlement Plan For Dominion

LONDON, Nov. 14—Sir Henry Page Croft and R. L. Dalgleish yesterday issued a report calling for the establishment of an "Empire development company" to promote the early settlement of 10,000 British families in British Columbia at an estimated cost of £10,000,000 ($50,000,000) to be met by a British government contribution or by public subscription under the Trade Facilities act.

The report, submitted to the cabinet, runs about 18,000 words. It contains the conclusion drawn by Sir Henry, chairman of the Empire Development and Research committee, and by Mr. Dalgleish, convener of the 1937 Empire Settlement Conference at Newcastle, following a tour through British Columbia last August.

The report says the British Columbia government promised "substantial" occupation, and Premier Pattullo made a "generous offer of free land." It suggested immediate steps be taken to accept the offer and prepare for the early advent of new settlers.

JUDGE CLAIMS IMMATUREITY IS MARRIAGE BANE

Toronto Cadi Tells Of Experiences In Family Relations Court

Greatest single cause of disharmony in Canadian homes today is the failure of either the husband or wife, or both, to mature or "grow up," R. N. Hosking, general secretary of the National Committee, are visiting Edmonton in the course of a tour which will take them to every Y.M.C.A. center in Canada.

Despite the great publicity which has been given to "marriage failure" in recent times "We have found as we travel across Canada that the marriage problem is the one which is taking the foremost place in the many marriages. Mr. Hosking stated that this failure to grow up might show in a number of different ways.

Interprovincial Parley Will Get Quebec Support

MONTREAL, Nov. 14—An interprovincial conference called by the federal government to study reports of the Rowell Commission will receive the "full support" of the Quebec government, Premier Dugas told newspapermen today at his weekly press conference.

"Should they accept such a conference, we gladly will participate," he said. "It is a conference which should have taken place long ago and, while it would not have all necessary powers, it would constitute a much better and more practical step than the Rowell Commission."

Vancover Has Third Amnesia Case Monday

VANCOUVER, Nov. 14—Vancover's third amnesia case in less than a month continued Vancouver police and hospital authorities today. A woman, whose name is being withheld, was taken to hospital after being taken to hospital and was unable to remember her name. She was wearing a pair of shoes with the name of a Winnipeg firm on the sole.

CANADA WILL GET ORDER FOR AIR BOMBERS

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 14—Contracts between the air ministry and Canadian plane manufacturers are expected to be signed within the next couple of days. They will involve $10,000,000.

The number of bombers to be built in Canada and flown across the Atlantic to deliver to the Royal Air Force is slightly less than 100, but the contracts will cover plant equipment and development costs.

Directors of the newly formed co-operative company for the Canadian aircraft industry, which has been set up in London for several weeks negotiating with the air ministry, the plane will be latest type bombers but it will be months before deliveries start.

FRY PROMISES AGAIN ATTACK HOUSING PLAN

Defeat Of Plebiscite Means
Fresh Angles Must Be Sought

Efforts to institute a housing program for Edmonton will be renewed immediately, it was stated by Mayor John W. Fry,
Monday, in an interview.

"We will attack the housing problem immediately, as we must find some way to operate a housing program," he said. "I am not at all intended to let the matter drop. We have spent a lot of time and a lot of money to make this housing program building under the National Housing Act."

Although the plebiscite was defeated, the city previously set aside 200 lots, which it is willing to sell for $50 each, thus qualifying under section three of the act to have taxes paid by the federal government on homes constructed in the city.

Under this section of the act, the Dominion pays for the municipal taxes for a year, half the second year and a quarter the third year.

JOHN L. LEWIS OPENS FIRST C. I. O. RALLY

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—President Roosevelt sent a plea for labor peace and unity to the first constitutional convention of the C.I.O. today with a slashing attack on the industrial organization policy, declaring "continued dissension can only lead to loss of influence and prestige to all labor."

The speech was concluded April 16 with an exchange of letters between the Reich of Berlin, British ambassador at Rome, and Foreign Minister Glatzke. It was agreed it would not become effective until a settlement had been reached in respect to Spain."

Britain Studies Hitler's Demands For Return of War-Lost Colonies

CHAMBERLAIN ANXIOUS FOR SETTLEMENT

South African Minister To Discuss Question In Berlin

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Great Britain was reported last night to be completing a study of Chamberlain's demands for the return of war-lost colonies in anticipation of diplomatic visits considered likely to touch on the colonial problem.

Oswald Prew, Union of South Africa defence minister, is to go to Germany Thursday, but it was not disclosed whether he would make counter proposals to the German government or merely sound out German officials on their demands. Since his arrival in Europe Oct. 23, Mr. Prew has conferred on the colonial situation with Portuguese and British officials.

WILL MEET DALMEIER
Similarly, Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax will have an opportunity to discuss the issue with Foreign Minister Dalmeier and Foreign Secretary Bismarck in their trip to Paris Nov. 25-26.

Mr. Chamberlain has been described as eager to reach a colonial settlement with Hitler but is to be facing opposition from some of his own followers. In addition, the nation over Germany's new outburst of anti-Semitism was not expected to make the colonial question more popular.

ANTICIPATE AGREEMENT
The British government's investigations are understood to have centred on possibility of reaching some agreement with France, Belgium, South Africa and Portugal to give back to Germany a place in the colonial world. The British government is expected to maintain the present equilibrium in Europe.

Those opposed to returning the colonies gave three reasons for their stand. Germany would use her colonies to establish air and naval routes across British vital trade routes. Britain could not expect support transfer of millions of colonies and Pacific island natives to the metropolitan colonies of Germany. Germany has misrepresented her dependence on the former German colonies.

Since his arrival in Europe Oct. 23, Mr. Prew has conferred on the colonial situation with Portuguese and British officials.

WILL MEET DALMEIER
Similarly, Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax will have an opportunity to discuss the issue with Foreign Minister Dalmeier and Foreign Secretary Bismarck in their trip to Paris Nov. 25-26.

Mr. Chamberlain has been described as eager to reach a colonial settlement with Hitler but is to be facing opposition from some of his own followers. In addition, the nation over Germany's new outburst of anti-Semitism was not expected to make the colonial question more popular.

ANTICIPATE AGREEMENT
The British government's investigations are understood to have centred on possibility of reaching some agreement with France, Belgium, South Africa and Portugal to give back to Germany a place in the colonial world. The British government is expected to maintain the present equilibrium in Europe.

Those opposed to returning the colonies gave three reasons for their stand. Germany would use her colonies to establish air and naval routes across British vital trade routes. Britain could not expect support transfer of millions of colonies and Pacific island natives to the metropolitan colonies of Germany. Germany has misrepresented her dependence on the former German colonies.

French Government Launches Vigorous Three-Year Recovery Program

GOLD STOCK REVALUED TO AID TREASURY

40-Hour Week Law Modified—Increase Wage Taxes

PARIS, Nov. 14.—France embarked Sunday on a vigorous three-year recovery program launched by 23 government decrees, which revalued the Bank of France's gold stock, modified the 40-hour week and otherwise were directed at increasing credit to spur production.

Promulgated under powers given Premier Raymond Dalmatien by parliament until Nov. 15, the measures fell under three main headings—economic, financial and administrative.

DECREES ANNOUNCED

Most important among the decrees announced Saturday night, were those providing for:

1. Revaluation of the Bank of France's gold stocks on the basis of 170 francs to the pound sterling or 37.89 in the United States dollar.

Finance Minister Paul Reynaud, estimating the profit to the treasury at 30,000,000 francs, said it would be used to reduce advance taxes to the nation by the bank.

2. Imposition of a special two-cent national contribution on all professional incomes, an increase of from 7.56 to 8 per cent on wage taxes, a readjustment of indirect taxes and an advance in security taxes and stamp duties.

3. Revision of the 40-hour week which still remains the "legal" limit, permitting production of 20 extra hours monthly of their workers without special authorization from the labor ministry. The week will be spread over six work days instead of five. Wages must be paid for overtime work. Manufacturers will be taxed 10 to 20 per cent all excess profits resulting from overtime work.

STIFF PENALTIES

4. Refusal by manufacturers to respect arbitration awards will exclude them from government contracts.

5. Suppression of the national lottery as of Jan. 1, 1940.

6. Co-ordination of domestic and colonial agricultural production and financial aid to farmers through subsidies and advances, to be raised from 10 to 15 per cent at a rate not higher than three per cent. These import revenues are expected to create a 100,000,000-franc fund, repayable within three years, some income as gain line, coffee, tobacco and face powder will be affected.

9. Additional state aid to large families to encourage a higher birth rate and establishment of a fund for readjustment of persons for civil service workers.

CONTROL FOREIGNERS

Two decrees issued by the ministry to increase control over foreigners were of particular significance in view of the murder of Ernst Von Rath, German embassy secretary, by a young Jew, who was permitted to reside in France only if he had received proper authorization. The law was bedged with greater restrictions, while the machinery to strip a foreigner of French citizenship was made easier.

PRINCE GEORGE TO ENTERTAIN TRAIL BLAZERS

Will Fete Francis Murphy, Pathfinders On Trip Through Pass

Citizens of Prince George and district were hosts Monday to Francis Murphy, Police Coupe, president of the Monkman Pass Highway Association, his crew of trail blazers and the "Pathfinder" car, a banquet and dance sponsored by the Prince George Board of Trade to commemorate the first in the series of the Monkman Pass to Prince George by automobile.

Joined by Mr. Murphy, the trip through the pass was completed Sunday, November 6 without encountering the least transportation difficulty. As Mr. Murphy naively stated, "The journey was made and we never had occasion to use a sledge hammer, a drill or a charge of dynamite or powder. We came through on our own power and in good time and with only two very minor accidents."

SCENIC VALUE

"The pass is 45 miles in length and is certainly one of the finest locations for a major highway project, both from its scenic and commercial value, and also from its standpoint of economical construction," stated Mr. Murphy.

Since August 14 Mr. Murphy and a crew of 14 men have been constructing a highway out of the brush and undergrowth of the Monkman Pass, completing their task on November 3 last. They immediately tackled the pass in the "Pathfinder" car and came through to Prince George without a hitch.

Considerable work has to be done on the proposed highway on the 20-mile stretch between the Herby and McCreary Falls stretch and Yellowhead, but this will be no easy matter for the experienced men at work, it being only a matter of cutting out the trail. Mr. Murphy's work will be proceeded with immediately and when completed the Pathfinder car and crew will continue their journey to Vancouver.

TO VISIT CITY

Completing that leg of their trip the Pathfinder car will turn back and will visit Edmonton on route to the Peace River on the return journey from the Pacific coast.

The work on construction of the Monkman Pass highway to date has been carried out by Peace River and McCreary Falls stretch, costing governments one single cent. The governments of Alberta, British Columbia and the federal government, the Monkman Pass affords an easy, economical outlet to the Pacific coast from the Peace River territory.

When the trail to Yellowhead has been completed the Pathfinder car will travel over the Caribou highway to Vancouver. It is not known yet when a start on this trip will be made.

ASSOCIATION FORMED

Two years ago, at a court, Alberta the Monkman Pass Highway Association was formed to definitely urge the construction of a major highway connecting the Peace River with southern British Columbia. The association has undertaken the construction of a preliminary route from the Peace River to the coast in British Columbia.

HUMAN RECORDS FROM PYRAMID ARE EXPLAINED

British-Israel World Federation Speaker Addresses Meetings Here

Eric B. deFondra, travelling lecturer sponsored by the British-Israel World Federation, addressed meetings in the McDougall United Church hall Saturday night and the Masonic Temple Sunday afternoon.

At one he told of the amazing record of human history found in the pyramid and at the other he lectured on present world affairs and declared they were foretold in the Holy Scriptures.

The coming world war, he said, is centered in Palestine, and Mr. deFondra at the meeting in the Masonic temple.

Speaking on "The Coming World Disaster," Mr. deFondra described the conditions of the world in 1871, when in the midst of world upheaval and strife were likened, likened in the Book of Revelation to three frogs croaking subversive propaganda by night which are described as "going forth" to the nations of the earth to gather them for the final battle.

GREATEST CRISIS

Through the doctrines of Sovietism, Fascism and Nazism the world is more prepared for war than any time since 1871, and democracy is facing the greatest crisis since the days of the Spanish Armada.

After the world war the book foretells the rise of ten dictators who afterwards become controlled by three. This has already been accomplished. "And these shall make war with the lamb, but the lamb will overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings, and he shall reign forever and ever."

Insurgent Planes Bomb And Damage British Freighters

BARCELONA, Nov. 14.—Two British freighters were damaged when insurgent planes raided the Barcelona harbor Sunday.

The bridge of the Lake Havell was destroyed by the insurgent aircraft. The 3,726-ton Clara Lilley was struck by bomb fragments but the damages were minor. No casualties reported on the ships. Fourteen persons were killed and 31 wounded in the city itself.

A sale in aid of the new Beaverlodge hospital exceeded all expectations. Approximately $100 was received made up from three important articles reserved for private sale, which will be donated to the final figure.

"Sell what you can spare and buy what you need" was the slogan and from a wide area people brought live stock, poultry, machinery, potatoes, grain, grass seed and furniture to be sold.

Robt. Cochrane who lives six miles east of Grande Prairie brought a lot of certified timber seed, artisans auctioned their services also and food and coal which had to be hauled for miles was sold.

Col. W. Hogg, Frank Walker and Miller Patterson of Calgary, donated their services and with the fine spirit in evidence and the general co-operation shown the western part of the Grande Prairie district will get a hospital.

Tories Nominate Candidate For Regina Election

REGINA, Nov. 14.—The Regina provincial by-election definitely became a three-cornered fight Saturday night when a Conservative party convention nominated R. M. Balfour, young Regina barrister, to be a candidate in the voting Nov. 24.

He will run in opposition to B. J. McDaniel, K.C., Liberal and Alderman C. C. Williams, Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation.

Winds, Rain Melt Vancouver Snow

VANCOUVER, Nov. 14.—A light blanket of wet snow, which covered Vancouver Saturday, melted Sunday with warm winds and rain.

At one he told of the amazing record of human history found in the pyramid and at the other he lectured on present world affairs and declared they were foretold in the Holy Scriptures.

The coming world war, he said, is centered in Palestine, and Mr. deFondra at the meeting in the Masonic temple.

Speaking on "The Coming World Disaster," Mr. deFondra described the conditions of the world in 1871, when in the midst of world upheaval and strife were likened, likened in the Book of Revelation to three frogs croaking subversive propaganda by night which are described as "going forth" to the nations of the earth to gather them for the final battle.

GREATEST CRISIS

Through the doctrines of Sovietism, Fascism and Nazism the world is more prepared for war than any time since 1871, and democracy is facing the greatest crisis since the days of the Spanish Armada.

After the world war the book foretells the rise of ten dictators who afterwards become controlled by three. This has already been accomplished. "And these shall make war with the lamb, but the lamb will overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings, and he shall reign forever and ever."

JAP TROOPS PUSH SOUTH FROM HANKOW

SHANGHAI, Nov. 14.—Japanese troops were reported Sunday pushing steadily southward from Hankow toward Changsha, railway point 200 miles south of the conquered former capital of China.

Most of the civilian population of Changsha was said to be fleeing, and the city was said to be in foreign property, located on Shuangshue Island, was declared as under Japanese control.

The British consulate Sunday was standing by.

In south China, Chinese reported their forces were preparing to counter-attack Japanese who captured Canton Oct. 21, but Japanese said their mopping-up operations continued without serious results.

Steamer Sinks

JERICHO FALLS INTO HANDS OF BRITISH TROOPS

JERICHO, Palestine, Nov. 14.—Jericho fell into the hands of the British army Sunday after two months of occupation by Arab rebels.

The Troops began house to house searches. They must not see any weapons, although those refusing to surrender were seized.

75-Year-Old Woman Buys First Ticket Across Bridge

VANCOUVER, Nov. 14.—A white-haired little woman of 75 who was up at six a.m. and walked four miles to be the first person to buy a ticket across Vancouver's new Lions Gate bridge, said Sunday at the situation she had drawn.

Mrs. Mary Sutton, 97, despite her years, thought nothing of her feat. It was moving when she set out to be the first to cross the bridge. She was the first to purchase a ticket to cross the span seemed to satisfy her.

Distance Doesn't Mean Much

When three British bombing planes flew from Egypt to Australia a week ago they did something more than simply set a new record for a long distance flight. The one forced down for fuel had travelled 500 miles farther than the Russians on their California flight last year; the other two carried on to their destination, for a mileage of 7162. The significance is not only in the distance travelled. It is to be remembered these were bombing planes of the heavy type.

It is less than half that distance across the Atlantic ocean from Europe to the eastern provinces and the New England states. The flight was made in 48 hours. What British planes do today, continental planes will be able to do tomorrow. Eastern Canada and the eastern states are only 24 hours from Europe, by airplanes each carrying enough bombs to destroy a city and enough fuel to fly back home after unloading its cargo of death and destruction.

That is the "moral" of the bombers' flight.

It Can Be Done

Our Swedish friends have adopted a method of dealing with unemployment which Canadians must ponder with envy and humiliation. Sweden, we are told, has no unemployment "problem," and no unemployment relief system. Instead, the Government has a large program of public works construction continuously under way. Anyone who finds himself out of a job can go to work on a Government project and be paid wages. But the wages are ten per cent lower than the minimum paid in industry. Hence the public work employee has a strong inducement to get back into regular employment as quickly as possible.

There is nothing new in this for Canadian readers, except that Sweden is doing it and Canada is not. The Dominion is twenty times the size of Sweden, with resources more varied, and correspondingly greater opportunities for employing its idle in the construction of public works of a worth while character. But instead of so employing them we continue to maintain them on "dole," and so encourage the idea that the country owes everybody a living without asking him to earn it.

Sweden supplies the proof that every employable idle man in Canada could do as well as work. Why don't we do it?

An Ally Gone

Sir John Simon says the Government of Great Britain has no desire to shut Russia out of "any future settlement of Europe." That isn't the point. The question is whether the thing has been done, whatever were the intentions.

Russia's officially controlled press is emphasizing the protest of L'itvino for the Czech affair, and drawing the conclusion that Russia may hereafter leave the democracies to fight their own battles. That is the sinister by-product of the Munich meeting which has been considered. Russia undoubtedly is resentful at the settlement arranged without its participation, and is rather openly threatening to "turn its back" on western Europe and its affairs.

The serious feature of this is that Russia can get along without the western powers, but it is by no means certain that the democracies can get along without Russia. They were glad enough to have its backing when they were threatening a show-down with Hitler at Godesburg.

Whatever one thinks of the economic absurdity it is trying to work out, the fact that Russia could launch a veritable avalanche of armed and trained men against him was something the Fuehrer could not ignore. That was what gave weight to the arguments of Chamberlain and Daladier, inasmuch as it may have seemed that democracy and communism should stand together.

If Russia's support has been lost, France and Britain must either trust Hitler and Mussolini to respect law and treaties in future, or multiply their armaments.

Britain Loses Trade

British manufacturers foresee loss of business as the result of the central Europe export ban. The German politico-economic crisis. No prophetic powers are required to anticipate such a result. It stands in the relation of effect to cause. It is not just for glory's sake the Fuehrer is extending his control over the Danubian basin. Germany needs markets, raw materials, foodstuffs; and can find them in that area. The complementary fact is that the resources of the area need capital for development; which German financiers can supply. But the whole world will grow into an economic zone, and that tariffs and trade policies will be shaped to that end, is to be supposed. British, French and Italian trade must suffer accordingly.

But Britain's manufacturers require more customers abroad than they have. Unless these are found, trade must slacken, unemployment spread and doles multiply while revenue shrinks. The Dominions and the colonies are the areas in which new markets may be logically sought. And if Britain's trade and trade policies are to be shaped to that end, there will be no occasion for surprise or resentment.

The Dominions already have preferences in British markets, as a result of which they sell many times more in Britain than they buy there. Perhaps they will be told they must buy more if they want to trade these countries to sell at an advantage over foreign exporters of the same products.

And why shouldn't Britain tell them so? Canada has never allowed sentiment to unduly interfere with the maxim, "business is business" when it came to imposing tariffs on British goods—nor have the other Dominions. Just why shouldn't Britain, faced by need of wider markets, adopt the same principle and buy from the Dominions in proportion as they buy from her?

Editorial Notes

The Fuehrer has been making some pleasant sounding speeches about his benevolent intentions toward other countries. But he hasn't repeated the thing plan he worked out so informatively in Mein Kampf.

The Dominion Government has decided to take part in the Pan-American congress to be held during the San Francisco world's fair. Most Canadians who sense the trend of world affairs will approve. Canada is in the western hemisphere, wants to be on friendly terms and do business with its neighbors; and could not afford to stand aloof.

The idea is to stand aloof from the congress to be held during the San Francisco world's fair. Most Canadians who sense the trend of world affairs will approve. Canada is in the western hemisphere, wants to be on friendly terms and do business with its neighbors; and could not afford to stand aloof.

It will be satisfactory to Albertans that the Dominion relief grant to the province of $125,000 per month is not to be reduced. While unemployment is less prevalent than it was, there are still many who require relief and neither their requirements nor their numbers can be expected to grow smaller during the winter months. Should this occur, the cities, towns and villages of the Dominion, should get the first benefit in reduced contributions to the funds.

Even a King Gets Tired

Noting that the King and Queen will never be able to accept all the invitations extended to them in the course of the proposed three weeks' visit to Canada, the Chatham News asks: "Why not endeavor to extend the time of their visit?" That would be something like the course adopted by certain governing bodies. When the available laws were not men of this magnitude suggested, they say: "Why not extend the field of taxation?" The taxpayer feels like asking in return: "Why not extend the field of taxation?" And in the case of the royal visit, of which an extension is now suggested, the appropriate reply is: "Why not curtail the number of invitations invited to them?"

The royal visit to Canada has no doubt been limited to three weeks because it is felt that three weeks will be about all their Majesties can stand. At the end of that time, the well-meaning but exhausting hospitality of Canada will probably have produced a very tired royal party—Toronto Star.

In Alberta

The Albertan government's majority was cut on Monday in the by-election in the Athabasca seat in northern Alberta but the result suggests that the government is still a strong factor in the rural areas. The Athabasca by-election was a straight fight between the government and the Liberal candidate and the government won by about 300 votes. This is about half the lead held by Social Credit at the 1933 general election when the Social Credit candidate polled 1764 votes, the Liberal 850, and the Conservative 315.

It may be assumed that the strength of the Albertan government is due, as is usually the case with parties in power, and that it will have to fight for its life at the next provincial election.

While the Liberals appear to be the strong opposition party in Alberta, the C.P.F., which includes at least part of the old United Farmers party, is working hard to organize in the C.P.F. is not likely to join in any "unity" group. Leaving such a movement to the Liberals and Conservatives, and the two latter parties, like the Social Credit and C.P.F., will be fighting each other in the general election fight that is likely to come around the same time as the Alberta election. The C.P.F. is likely to be "teamed" for a provincial struggle while fighting each other in the Dominion battle.

The split vote is not as acting a factor in Alberta as in other provinces that do not use the transferable vote.

The idea is to divide the vote, to suggest that if the Albertan government is defeated when it goes to the country the Liberals will have brought it down—Regina Leader-Post.

The Athabasca By-Election

From the election we can safely come to the following conclusions:

1. The Social Credit movement has not increased in popularity as the Social Credit leaders repeatedly asserted.

2. On the other hand the movement, though slipping perceptibly, has not collapsed, and still has the upper hand, which leads to the opinion that if an election were held now the "unity" movement would likely be returned by a small majority. The future will depend much on the success of other government ventures.

3. The election gave rise to many of the major questions about the relations between Liberal party and Unity or the wisdom of merger, alliance, co-operation or go-alongism.

Just one more inquiry. Why did the majority of our electors vote for the government candidate?

1. Was it because they have faith in the movement and still look forward to the golden dividend?

2. Was it because they have confidence in the administration of the government and want to give it another chance?

3. Was it because of the agrarian revolt supported by many dissatisfied proletarians, who did not like the government much, but the opposition less?

Mr. Trade received support from all three classes, but unless I am very much mistaken, the vast majority came from the middle class, who do not seem to have been greatly impressed by the opposition program—W. M. Davidson, in The Herald.

Professor From Prague

During the so-called Dark Ages of the past, the lamps of civilization were kept alight in a few scattered schools and monasteries, which became the last refuge of science and culture in a world given over to warring tribes. It is a grim but interesting commentary on the developments of our own time that the universities of the New World are beginning to replace the early medieval universities of the old world, and that the universities of the New World are beginning to replace the early medieval universities of the old world, and that the universities of the New World are beginning to replace the early medieval universities of the old world.

Dr. Eduard Benes has rejected offers from European universities to accept an invitation to lecture at the University of Chicago. The president of the Czechoslovakia of yesterday was a professor before he became a member and founder of the Czechoslovak Republic. He is returning to his old métier and at the same time following in the footsteps of his predecessor, Dr. Masaryk.

But what a new wealth of experience is brought to the teaching of the principles and practice of democracy by a teacher who has presided over a twenty-year republic, and who with his resignation and is already as dead as the period following the Congress of Vienna.

Dr. Benes has been at the point of a great historic return. He comes to the United States as a symbol of the tragic order of his own life, and as a symbol of the new world in general, at this moment under pressure everywhere. He comes here because this is now the world's stronghold of democracy, and his coming should result in American taking responsibility to keep the lights on against the encroaching twilight in Central Europe and to

The Passing Show

By R. A. COOPER

Good news for the women-folk—or is it? Announcement is made by Vice-president Dr. C. M. A. Stine of the famous duPont chemical firm that his technicians have succeeded in making a new synthetic oil. The new synthetic oil that will be "as strong as steel." The same "nylon" is given to the synthetic chemical textile.

It is still non-wearable, non-runtable, how be a boon to women. It's annoying of course, and expensive, to have to wear out quickly or develop "stitch" on slight provocation. But imagine the ignominy of having to wear the same half-dozen pairs of indestructible stockings from one year's end to the other.

Men have an affection for old clothes. They hate to don new suits or break in new boots. But women suffer mortification of spirit if they have to wear the same things again after season. Dr. Stine may boast of what the duPont chemists and technicians have achieved, but wait till they try to induce their women-folk to wear the new "strong as steel" stockings. Mothers of small boys may buy them for the youngsters; they'll need something that won't last for ever for themselves.

One nation won't receive the news of the new wear-resistant alkali with acclaim. That nation is Japan. Export of raw and manufactured alkali, with a small amount of refined alkali, represents the largest single item of Japan's export trade. In the year 1936, the last normal trade year, Japan exported $10,000,000 worth of alkali.

A HARD BLOW We have figures, Japan exported $10,000,000 worth of alkali. This was well onto half of her total exports.

The other principal item of Japanese export was cotton, totaling $10,000,000. This was well onto half of her total exports. The use of cheap female labor in her great cotton mills (built with money loaned by English banks) has made her an underdog in the cotton trade. But though her cotton trade is large, it has nothing near the importance to Japan of her wool and elasticity of the silkworm's product, the silk trade, from the breeding of the silkworms to the weaving of the fabrics, is wholly Japanese. If the new "strong as steel" alkali has the body and elasticity of the silkworm's product, this announcement means that Japan has received a blow harder than any struck by the forces of Chiang Kai-shek.

Writers of "spy" fiction will find material for stories in the evidence being given in the trials at New York of three alleged espionage agents. The German spy, Hans, who was arrested in Germany a year ago, and who is now in Berlin, two agents of the German War Office took to dinner and suggested that he rent a "villa" in Washington on behalf of the Nazi government. She was to conduct a salon for "Senators, leading Congressmen, politicians and newspaper men." Money, they assured her, "was no object."

SIDE GLANCES

by George Clark

Good news for the women-folk—or is it? Announcement is made by Vice-president Dr. C. M. A. Stine of the famous duPont chemical firm that his technicians have succeeded in making a new synthetic oil. The new synthetic oil that will be "as strong as steel." The same "nylon" is given to the synthetic chemical textile.

It is still non-wearable, non-runtable, how be a boon to women. It's annoying of course, and expensive, to have to wear out quickly or develop "stitch" on slight provocation. But imagine the ignominy of having to wear the same half-dozen pairs of indestructible stockings from one year's end to the other.

Men have an affection for old clothes. They hate to don new suits or break in new boots. But women suffer mortification of spirit if they have to wear the same things again after season. Dr. Stine may boast of what the duPont chemists and technicians have achieved, but wait till they try to induce their women-folk to wear the new "strong as steel" stockings. Mothers of small boys may buy them for the youngsters; they'll need something that won't last for ever for themselves.

One nation won't receive the news of the new wear-resistant alkali with acclaim. That nation is Japan. Export of raw and manufactured alkali, with a small amount of refined alkali, represents the largest single item of Japan's export trade. In the year 1936, the last normal trade year, Japan exported $10,000,000 worth of alkali.

A HARD BLOW We have figures, Japan exported $10,000,000 worth of alkali. This was well onto half of her total exports.

The other principal item of Japanese export was cotton, totaling $10,000,000. This was well onto half of her total exports. The use of cheap female labor in her great cotton mills (built with money loaned by English banks) has made her an underdog in the cotton trade. But though her cotton trade is large, it has nothing near the importance to Japan of her wool and elasticity of the silkworm's product, the silk trade, from the breeding of the silkworms to the weaving of the fabrics, is wholly Japanese. If the new "strong as steel" alkali has the body and elasticity of the silkworm's product, this announcement means that Japan has received a blow harder than any struck by the forces of Chiang Kai-shek.

Writers of "spy" fiction will find material for stories in the evidence being given in the trials at New York of three alleged espionage agents. The German spy, Hans, who was arrested in Germany a year ago, and who is now in Berlin, two agents of the German War Office took to dinner and suggested that he rent a "villa" in Washington on behalf of the Nazi government. Smooth Way To Beauty With A Facial Massage

Hostess Gown

By ALICIA HART

The woman who is serious about keeping her skin smooth, clear and youthful firm, knows that toning and lubricating as well as proper breathing exercises are all important. She keeps her complexion remarkably clear, of course, but, in addition, she uses skin tonic and softening creams, appreciates the results of hot water, viams, proper massage and exercises for facial muscles.

At night, after she has washed her face and neck, she slips on very cold water until her skin is pink and tingling. If she prefers skin tonic to hot water, she puts it on vigorously and lets it dry before applying night cream. Incontinently she always keeps a bottle of skin tonic in the ice box.

CREAM, THEN EXERCISE

Night cream goes on with upward outward strokes from the base of throat to hairline. Here are directions for the throat and facial exercises she does before removing the cream.

Stand at feet apart with arms at sides. Relax neck and head fall backward as far as possible, meanwhile opening your mouth. Now, slowly close mouth and, making muscles at sides of the neck do the work, lift head until back of the neck is straight. Feel the muscles stretch and pull. Repeat five times.

Fill your cheeks with air, then slowly blow the air out through your lips. Repeat five times. This discourages upward lines from corners of the nose and mouth.

With thumbs and forefingers, grasp the top of your chin, gently pinching skin and the flesh beneath. Continuing the pinching movements, work fingers and thumbs outward along jawline to the ears. Repeat eight times. This routine tends to eliminate a double chin.

To get rid of vertical lines on your brow, place fingertips squarely between the lines and massage outward to sides of the forehead. Then pat the lines for a few minutes, applying light night cream. By this time, the first layer has been absorbed. Apply the second layer. Your lines across the forehead also should be patting.

FOR EYE WRINKLES
Place the tip of third finger at inside corners of eyes, then lightly massage around and under the eyes, moving from inside and flattening out the fine lines at outside corners. Continue the pinching movements, work fingers and thumbs outward along jawline to the ears. Repeat eight times. This routine tends to eliminate a double chin.

Finish the treatment by patting the cheeks and sides of the neck—always patting upward of course. Then apply the cream to the face with soft tissues. Next morning, cleanse with soap and water. If your skin is dry, with cleansing cream if it is dry. Rub several times with soap and water before applying foundation lotion and make-up.

Lovely Glass Gardens
Are Easy to Grow

Naturally the art of indoor plants and gardens should have been taught in schools for childhood. Freshness is an art, just as well as a virtue. It is one of the most important things to teach a child, just as well as a virtue. It is one of the most important things to teach a child, just as well as a virtue.

O. R. Barton, as well as a virtue. It is one of the most important things to teach a child, just as well as a virtue. It is one of the most important things to teach a child, just as well as a virtue.

There are two kinds of tact. One is sheer diplomacy. It is somewhat artificial and calculating. It reacts to the good of the diplomat herself. Intentionally, this is not to be confused, because habit becomes second nature and many a woman who began by being superficially friendly as a social asset has come out with a really gracious and sincere personality.

The real tact, however, is the natural goodness and kindness. The heart reduced to an art. It needs training and exercise. We may feel the saying and doing the kind thing, but in our ignorance cannot put it over or let others know how we feel.

Our daughters and our sons, too, must be taught this tact, habit early if they are to make friends. And keep them.

LEGION BY CHARM
It comes to me now, a little episode that occurred a year ago. At a club I had gone to with friends. Two young daughters of a prominent family so prominent that I knew them at once, bowed haughtily and shook my hand. I was used to good manners, but I was startled and shocked. It was

Tested Cheese Recipe Provides Taste Thrill

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Wisconsin takes the cheese cake "a natural" in that state. The American Dietetic association held the annual convention in Milwaukee this year and several of the cake-makers were making good. And they gave me tested recipes.

WELL-FASHIONED BAKED CHEESE CAKE

One package ice cream, 1 teaspoon cream, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup melted butter, 1/2 cup salt.

Crush cake with rolling pin, add sugar, melted butter, cream and salt. Work all well together.

Grease baking pan, put a layer of mixture on the bottom and sides of a buttered torte tin, saving some to sprinkle on top. Fill with the following mixture.

Four eggs, 3 pounds cottage cheese, 1/2 cup salt, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup melted butter, 1

Charge Poor in Ireland Do Not Benefit From Horse Race Sweepstakes

NEW HOSPITALS FAIL TO HELP NEEDY PEOPLE

Huge Sums Obtained From Lotteries Fail To Improve Conditions

DUBLIN, Nov. 14.—Social workers here are complaining that although sweepstakes have raised enormous sums for the benefit of Irish hospitals, poor people in Dublin requiring treatment are as badly off today as they were seven years ago.

It is estimated that more than £200,000 has been raised in Dublin by the sale of sweepstakes tickets since 1931. The money has been used for the construction of new hospitals and for the improvement of existing ones.

At the same meeting, Patrick J. H. O'Connell, M.P., said that the health of County Down had improved in the last five years. He pointed out that the County Down hospital had been built in 1931 and that the County Down hospital had been built in 1931.

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly
Get Tougher!
Wesley Threat
Bombers Away

CALHUN Left Gowers E.A.C. had its second practice test Saturday night. The squad showed plenty of potential offense but was lacking in defense. The squad showed plenty of potential offense but was lacking in defense.

In many spots the E.A.C. clicked smoothly enough Saturday night, but there were a few times when the team looked bad. Some of the forwards were out of sync in their defensive duties in the defensive end and some one else worry about the back-checking. This looking gave Saskatoon a couple goals. At other times the Edmonton defense got a bit careless—in fact they just about hung out a welcome sign for the Wesleys.

Results that would be

Saskatoon Will Be Tough

SASKATOON hockey team have always been thought to be at the top of the tree and the Wesley machine goes every indication that they are the best in the West.

Don't take the Wesley on the 11-3 trimming they took here. The boys had been on the train since 7 a.m. and just hopped off it at 10:30 p.m. The arena was a tough trip for a junior club. Then Gower Bayner stopped a practice shot with his mouth a minute after the rest of the team and that didn't do him any good for the rest of the evening. The Wesleys strike me as the club that may give the E.A.C. its greatest battle in the western playoffs next spring.

Italy's 'World's Largest' Sanatorium

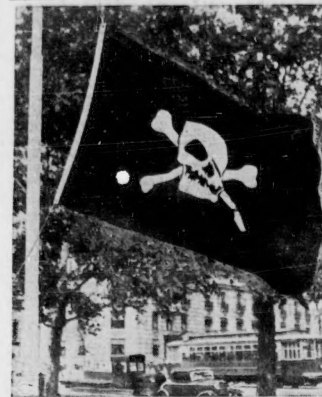

Italy presses the war against the "white plague" with a great new tuberculosis sanatorium high in the Italian Alps, where mountain air, sunlight and the most modern scientific equipment will help 2,000 fight the disease. This view shows the 19-building hospital at Sondrio. It is the largest of the 46 in Italy, reputedly the largest in the world.

Make Shift

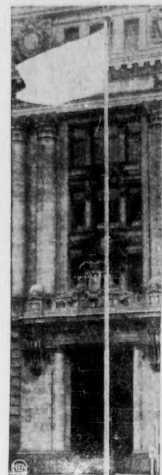

This unusual picture of the crack Royal Household Cavalry was taken on Grosvenor Road near London as the cavalrismen, each leading a spare horse, made their annual shift along with the change of residence of the British Royal Household. The Household Cavalry, which traces its origin to the 17th century, is composed of the Royal Horse Guards and the Royal Life Guards.

Traffic Signals --- Of Life And Death

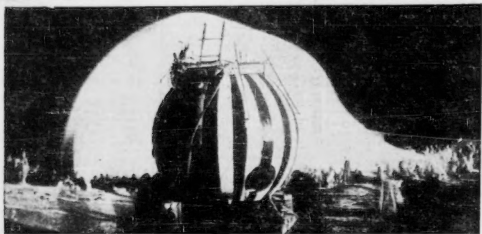

When the skull-and-crossbones pictured above rises in Washington nowadays it doesn't mean that Captain Kidd has sailed up the Potomac but rather that the pirate, Traffic Death, has stolen another human life. For 24 hours after a person is killed in a traffic accident, the pirate flag flies, as pictured above, before the District building. When no traffic fatality happens in a 24-hour period, the white banner of safety, shown at right, is raised.

Mystery

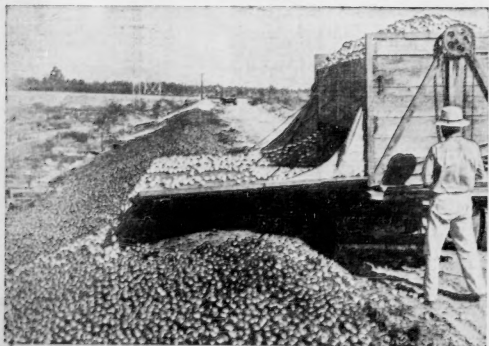

Like a scene from a movie thriller was the picture of sinister secret agents exchanging code messages painted by Eleanor C. Boehme, above, witness in the trial of alleged German spies in New York Federal Court. She told of visiting Kate Moog Bush, another witness, who, on their first meeting, slipped into her palm as they shook hands, a book of matches. Examining it later, she said she found the inside covered with writing in code.

When a Big Balloon Goes Boom

A great gas bag slowly inflates, top picture, as a parade to a projected record-breaking flight into the stratosphere. The gaily painted gondola, which was to carry two Polish balloonists, stands in the foreground. Suddenly a tremendous explosion rips the bag, flames shoot skyward and the balloon sinks in flames, as pictured in lower photo. Here are two pictures, taken within seconds of each other, that record the failure of a stratosphere flight before it began. These photos of the spectacular explosion were taken at Chomowoda, 100 miles from Warsaw. The fliers had hoped to soar 16 miles.

Orange Surplus Dumped

Statisties from California's bumper orange crop. One mile long, 20 feet wide, 15 feet high. These are the measurements of the orange "dump" near Anaheim, Calif., part of which is pictured above, with fresh oranges being added. Growers said the surplus was of an inferior grade.

Hell-I-I-p

How did I ever get in this mess, said what do I do about it?—that seems the gist of Ernestine Bazemore's thoughts as she and a six-foot pine snake pose for the cameramen at Birmingham-Southern College in Birmingham, Ala. Oswald.

Lloyd George, Farmer

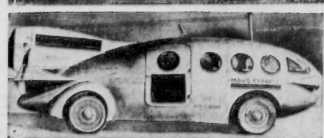

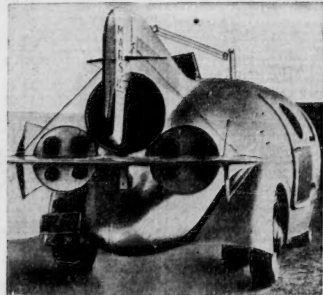

Twenty years ago David Lloyd George was directing the conference to end the World War. Today he is directing operations on his 100-acre farm near Churt, England. Above, the post-actor of the Versailles treaty watches a giant "green-roller" at work.

Children's Hour

Terror brought on by earlier experiences in war zones of Hankow still lingers in the eyes of these pathetic war-orphans refugees who found shelter and kindness in Hankow. Their brief moment of happiness with the soda pop bottles was short-lived as Japanese rained bombs on Hankow and most of the terror-stricken population fled westward to the Chinese interior. Parents of these babes were killed during Japanese advance on outlying Hankow districts.

Mars Express

Altery folk who were panicked by the recent radio broadcast of an attack by Martian monsters might have an uncomfortable moment at first sight of the machine pictured above—the "Mars Express." This latest thing in super-streamlined automobiles is convertible into a rocket car, as shown in the rear view, above, where the vents for rockets are seen. Designed by Peter Vroom, of Buffalo, N.Y., the aluminum car is 20 feet long, and, powered by a V-8 motor and supercharger, makes 110 m.p.h. It cost $15,000. In a side view, below, it resembles a winged machine.

Honeymoons In Chicken Coop

Thirteen-year-old high school freshman Frances Fox Smith found the growing list of chum brides when she stopped at Elkins, Ala., with Robert Sawyer, 21, of Souderton, Pa. She was taken by her husband to a chicken coop "honeymoon cottage" right after their marriage.
